Twin Group PRESS RELEASE

Twin Group awarded major contracts

Twin Group are proud to announce that the group has recently been awarded a major government contract with Job Centre Plus across the whole of the south of London. Twin beat off tenders from over 60 London and national training providers to provide career advice and guidance, employability training and employment placement for up to 11,000 unemployed clients per annum from the south of London.

Twin has also just been awarded two other prestigious contracts with the London Development Agency. The first of these is to provide vocational training and employment placements for up to 200 workless beneficiaries from some of the most deprived boroughs across London. This project is co-funded through the European Social Fund. The second contract is to recruit, train and place in employment up to 200 classroom support assistants. The aim of this project is to ensure those with English as a second language, refugee and asylum seeker pupils and school children from ethnic minorities receive culturally identifiable support and assistance from trained classroom practitioners in primary, secondary and special needs schools across London.

Twin has, for many years, been a respected training and work placement provider for a range of government and other funded contracts. However the award of the 'Jobseeker Mandatory Activity' and the LDA contracts for London propel the Group to a new prominence in the field of vocational training provision, ESOL, and employment placement.

As well as their training centres in Lewisham and Camberwell, their year-round language schools in Eastbourne, Salisbury and Lewisham and their 10 summer centres around the UK, Twin will be opening and operating training centres in two new sites initially, with the possibility of further centres later this year. The two new training centres will be located in Croydon central and in Kingston upon Thames, and both centres will be open and operating by April 2006.

Although both the Croydon and Kingston upon Thames centres will obviously be providing training and employment placement for the JMA and LDA contracts

Twin does not rule out the possibility of opening language training divisions, at a later date this year, at one or both of the locations. If you would be interested in either centre as a location for language training, group stays or training provision please do not hesitate to contact Jacqui or Caroline direct.

Twin Group have developed enormously over the 12 years since their inception and are now a major force in vocational training and employment placement, inbound and outward bound work experience, year-round language training for adults, inbound and outward bound cultural and mini-stay programmes for groups and schools, and year-round and summer vacation courses for teenagers and juniors. The award of major contracts like the JMA and LDA are a testament to their ever-increasing reputation for excellence, delivery, and value for money services and products.
